5.0 PROCEDURES

Yukon College is committed to expanding northern research and innovation opportunities. All research undertaken at Yukon College will adhere to the academic and ethical standards and principles described in the following Yukon College policies:

- AR-02 Research Integrity Policy;
- AR-03 Research Ethics Policy;
- AR-04 Animal Welfare Policy;
- AR-05 Intellectual Property Policy.

The following procedures describe the requirements for awarding research fellowships that are funded through the Northern Research Endowment Fund.

5.01 Northern Research Endowment Fund

A sum of $1,000,000 is endowed in perpetuity by the Government of Yukon to the Yukon College.

Fifty percent of interest earnings will be applied, in the form of research fellowships, to Yukon-based academic and scholarly research in the humanities, social, pure, and applied sciences, that is directly relevant to the Yukon.

5.02 Criteria for Awarding of Fellowships

The proposed research will

- Be directly relevant to the Yukon;
- Have a Northern theme or an impact on the North with a priority for Yukon issues or concerns;
- Be in the domain of humanities, social, pure and applied sciences;
- Be scholarly.

The researcher will preferably be a Yukon resident.

Non-resident Fellowships may be awarded provided the research project will significantly involve the collaboration of Yukon residents.

When submitting an application for a research fellowship that is to be funded from the Northern Research Endowment Fund:

- All applications will be made to the Director of Research Services, Yukon Research Centre;
- An adjudication committee under the direction of the President will:
 - Review all applications,
 - Assess the proposals in light of the criteria,
 - Assess the funding levels,
 - Select and recommend, to the President, applicants for the fellowships available within financial limitations, and, on approval,
 - Notify all applicants.

The adjudication committee is also responsible for the following activities where required and appropriate:

- Seek clarifications;
- Suggest revisions to proposals;
- Establish conditions of funding;
- Establish evaluation criteria;
- Evaluate the research on completion.

6.0 PROBLEM SOLVING

Any questions or concerns arising out of the intent, content, implementation, or communication of this policy should be reported to the Vice-President, Research.

Where a concern or dispute arises from a decision made as a result of applying or enforcing this policy, the Vice-President, Research should be notified as soon as possible after the decision has been made. In such cases all reasonable attempts should be made to resolve any disagreements cooperatively with the Vice-President, Research or designate. Where informal resolution is not possible, the matter will be resolved under the authority of the Academic Council following the procedures described in the relevant sections of the Yukon College Academic Regulations and Procedures.

Where a concern or dispute arises over matters of integrity in research and scholarly activities, such concerns will be addressed by following the procedures described in the relevant sections of Yukon College policy, AR-02 Research Integrity.

Where a concern or dispute arises over matters of ethics in research and scholarly activities, researchers have the right to request a reconsideration of any decisions made that affect their research project. In such cases the relevant sections of Yukon College policy, AR-03 Research Ethics Policy apply.

Where a concern or dispute arises over a matter of animal welfare in research and scholarly activities, a Principal Investigator (PI) may appeal a decision by following the procedures described in Yukon College policy, AR-04 Animal Welfare Policy.

Where a dispute(s) arises over the attribution of academic credit and/or Intellectual Property (IP) rights created in the course of performing research and scholarly activities, contributors are required to seek advice and informal resolution of the matter if possible from the Vice-President, Research or designate. In such cases the procedures defined in Yukon College policy, AR-05 Intellectual Property Policy apply.
